How important is Moldova's cross-border power system? Geographically positioned between Romania and Ukraine, the cross-border power system of the Republic of Moldova is critical for regional energy security and regional integration with the European and Moldova-Ukraine energy markets. How much energy does Moldova need in ? This means that in summer CHPs are off, and the imports from Transnistria meet about 90% of the total domestic electricity demand. Committed renewable energy capacity in the Republic of Moldova by is expected to reach 700MW. In , renewable energy generation met 10.5% of the energy demand, compared to 5.5% in . What is the main source of energy in the Republic of Moldova? In the reference scenario, natural gas, primarily imported from the Russian Federation, remains the main component of the Republic of Moldova's generation mix accounting for over 30% and followed by oil. Why is Moldova's electricity supply so vulnerable? Since November , the MGRES gas-fired power plant in Transnistria is making up for the electricity import deficit from Ukraine. This heavy reliance on external sources, particularly from politically sensitive regions, makes the Republic of Moldova's electricity supply extremely vulnerable. Will Moldova reach net-zero by ? However, to attain net-zero by , the renewable energy capacity in the Republic of Moldova will have to increase 4 times from the levels. Today about 400MW of renewable energy capacity has been installed in the Republic of Moldova - of which about 230MW of solar PV, and 170MW of wind capacity. Why is Moldova a low energy country? The Republic of Moldova's low energy self-sufficiency, covering only about 21% of its energy needs domestically, makes it heavily reliant on imports, particularly from the Russian Federation for natural gas and Romania for oil products.
